

School Reunion

Intended Audience: Year 5

Intended Session Length: 50 minutes

This session takes your students on a self-discovery journey where they explore and share their future aspirations and dream careers. We will help to reduce any kind of nervousness about the lead up to their future and open up their minds to a variety of career choices so further down the line they can make informed choices and decisions.

In groups they will create character profiles for their gingerbread man to resemble their dream job highlighting the conjunction between career and personality traits. They will all compete to guess one another's dream jobs shortly followed by a freeze frame activity. The final part of the workshop will include an activity where they must write to their 9/10-year-old selves giving advice and encouragement towards their own progression.

They will not only learn something new about themselves but also their class mates so can be a great way to also help the class bond.

Session outcome: To be aware of possible educational pathways and options in alignment with their dream career.
